Current Exhibits in the Changing Galleries

Fighting Fires presents the history of the City of Tempe Fire Department from the viewpoints of those who have lived that history. A historical time-line puts the Fire Department in perspective and a photographic essay on a day in the life of a Tempe firefighter shows what it is like to be a firefighter. The exhibit runs through March 6, 2004.

Reflections on Tempe Beach

Using personal stories and photographs, this exhibit looks at the founding of the pool and park, how the park became a community center, the impact of the segregation policy and how community activists overturned this policy. The exhibit runs through Aug 1, 2004.

Borders and Boundaries

The exhibit features the photography of teenagers looking through the lens at their lives. It offers a view into how identity is expressed by youth from four diverse and unique communities: Guadalupe, Arizona; Second Mesa, Arizona; Ciudad Obregón, Sonora, Mexico; and the northeastern section of the Navajo reservation, Utah. This exhibit is on tour through the Arizona Commission on the Arts Traveling Exhibitions Program and runs through March 5.
